According to Lisa Benson, president of Ellipse, "We chose to work with ProfitStars based on their ability to provide a platform that solves for the key issue at hand, to allow for renters to pay rent online. We believe have that we established an outstanding, mutually beneficial partnership. We expect this offering to solve a problem that exists in the market with businesses that have not taken advantage of online payments due to the complexity and cost. ProfitStars will enhance our client's position by making it cost effective to allow apartment renters to pay rent online in a completely secure environment."

Our approach will help apartment management companies enter into the payment processing venue with a relatively low level of effort and expense. At a time when businesses are aggressively looking for ways to maximize their limited resources and improve operating efficiencies, we expect the competitively distinct solution will be especially attractive."
