The Resident of the Month Goes to ...

March ROTM Matt Caffrey

The nominations are in, and UV's March ROTM is ... Matthew Caffrey! Matt was nominated by his roommate, Dustin White. Both have been residents of UV since this past fall. Dustin was extremely enthusiastic about nominating his roommate for ROTM because of all the great things he is involved in.

Matt is currently a junior at Ohio State studying Political Science. He is the President of College Democrats at OSU. Being a part of College Democrats gave him the chance to travel to Washington D.C., for Barack Obama's inauguration speech. During his free time, he participates in a lot of OSU campus activities and enjoys watching independent and foreign films. Matt also enjoys hanging out in the Short North. You can catch him every first Saturday of the month at Gallery Hop. Matt enjoys visiting Jenni's ice cream parlor during the Gallery Hop. Who couldn't resist those unique and delicious flavors they have to offer?

Matt is definitely proud to be a UV resident. He is always having his friends over to show off his apartment and tell them about all the great things UV has to offer residents. What's his favorite part about living at University Village? The Big Red Bus, of course. He likes the convenience of taking the bus to and from his classes. Not having to worry about parking or buying a parking pass on campus is also a perk Matt enjoys.

Matt is excited to be a blogger and to share his views on The UV Beat. Make sure to keep an eye out for his future blog posts!
